Dear Minister

I have pleasure in presenting to you the Regulator Performance Framework (RPF) self-assessment report for 2015-16 for the Safety, Rehabilitation and Compensation Commission (Commission).

I certify, as the Accountable Authority of the Commission, that this document has been drafted consistent with the requirements of the Government's RPF, approved by the Commission, externally validated and, once approved by you, will be published on the Commission's website.

Yours sincerely

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This is the first annual self-assessment by the Safety, Rehabilitation and Compensation Commission (Commission) against the Government's Regulator Performance Framework.

The self-assessment identified that the Commission has met 16 out of 18 (89%) of the measures that fall under the six key performance indicators (KPIs).

BACKGROUND

The Commission is established by the Safety, Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 1988 (SRC Act). It has functions under both the SRC Act and the Work Health and Safety Act 2011 (WHS Act).

One of its key functions is regulating self-insurance under the SRC Act, which includes granting and revoking licences and monitoring licensees' compliance against the Commission's conditions of self-insurance licence.

The Commission consulted directly with regulated entities (self-insurance licensees) both in developing its Regulator Performance Framework KPIs and on its 2015-16 self-assessment.

FINDINGS

The self-assessment found that of the 18 measures, 16 were fully met and two were partially met.

The two measures rated as partially met are:

KPI 2.1: The Commission provides guidance and information that is up to date, clear, accessible and concise through media appropriate to the target audience. Guidance material and information complies with government accessibility guidelines.

KPI 6.3: The Commission regularly shares feedback from stakeholders and performance information (including from inspections) with policy departments to improve the operation of the regulatory framework and administrative processes. Documented procedures are in place to facilitate the flow of information between the regulator and policy departments.

In relation to KPI 2.1, not all of the documents on the Commission's website comply with the Government's accessibility guidelines. Through an existing body of work to review and update the Commission's website, the website and published documentation will be reviewed and updated in line with the Government's accessibility guidelines.

In relation to KPI 6.3, there is an opportunity to strengthen the Commission's governance documentation to better facilitate the flow of information between the Commission and the Department of Employment (its policy department).

These improvements will be made in the 2016-17 year.
